

FIGURE 4. Schematic diagram of the 21-cell multicell positron trap, showing three banks of 7 cells in a hexagonally closed packed arrangement. Plasmas from the source will first enter the feed electrodes, then be moved off axis using autoresonant excitation of the diocotron mode to fill off-axis storage cells.